

receiving an honorable discharge, Eldon returned to trucking, hauling milk, horses, and other heavy equipment.

In 1969, Eldon married Eloise Tibbits at the Gouverneur United Methodist Church. Together, they purchased Van Ornum Furniture on Main Street in Gouverneur, which they owned and operated until it was sold in 1998. In 1985, Eldon became interested in serving his local community and served as Village Trustee, Mayor, and finally Town Councilman. He served as Councilman from 2003 until his passing. Additionally, Eldon was the Town Chairman of the Gouverneur Republican Town Committee. Because of his tremendous work in this position and his unyielding commitment to the North Country, the St. Lawrence Republican County Committee presented him with the prestigious Betsy Kaplan Award in 2017.

Eldon dedicated his storied career to serving the Gouverneur community in many capacities. Eldon co-owned many other Gouverneur businesses, including the Gralyn Theater, Gouverneur Bowl, and Antique Emporium. He also was a member of the Greater Gouverneur Chamber of Commerce and became an honorary lifetime member in 2017. Throughout his tenure in public service, Eldon worked tirelessly to improve the quality of life for residents of Gouverneur. CELEBRATING THE LIFE, SPIRIT, AND LEADERSHIP OF THE LATE JULIE CHERRY

HON. TROY A. CARTER

OF LOUISIANA

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Thursday, November 3, 2022

Mr. CARTER of Louisiana. Madam speaker, I rise to remember the life, spirit, friendship, and leadership of Julie Cherry.

Julie Tregre Cherry, age 62, passed away October 25, 2022, in Baton Rouge, far too soon. Julie served most recently as the Secretary-Treasurer to the Louisiana American Federation of Labor and Congress of Industrial Organizations (AFL-CIO) and was a former President of the East Baton Rouge Federation of Teachers. Julie was a dedicated public servant and fierce fighter for equity and justice. She advocated for laws, regulations, and policies beneficial to working families in the Louisiana Legislature and served on various boards and commissions, including the Louisiana Educational Television Authority, Baton Rouge Fire and Police Civil Service Board, and Governor's Workers' Compensation Advisory Council. In 2014, she received national recognition with the Presbrey Champion of Labor Award from the Workers' Injury Law and Advocacy Group and in 2012, the Dragon Slayer Award from Louisiana Workers' Advocates.

Just this year, Julie graduated from the Southern University Law Center with a Juris Doctorate and was looking forward to the next chapter in her professional life helping underserved and under-resourced people in Louisiana. Also, as a life-long music minister, Julie was heavily involved in the local Catholic community, especially the parishes of St. Jean Vianney and Most Blessed Sacrament. She remained a long-time educator and passionate student.

Julie is survived by her devoted partner, Richard le Bouef, and children Elaine Blacharski (Tony), Aaron Cherry (Elisabeth), Luke Cherry (Nicole), and Jacob Cherry (Juliette) as well as beloved grandchildren Reed, Penelope, Aaron Jr., James, Arthur, and Louis. She is also survived by mother Jeanne Tregre, sisters Marie Rourke (Mike), Patricia DeWeese (Danny), and Jeanne "Cathy" Kelly (Larry), and an extended family of nieces and nephews. Julie was preceded in death by her father, Bruce Tregre, Sr.; brothers Bruce Jr. "Spike" and Michael Tregre; former husband, Daniel Cherry; and nephew, Jordy Rourke.

I'm sending prayers to Julie's family, friends, students, colleagues, and church community. She will be sorely missed.

I take comfort knowing she is with her Savior in heaven.

RECOGNIZING THE ACHIEVEMENTS OF JUDGE ALEX CALABRESE

HON. NYDIA M. VELÁZQUEZ

OF NEW YORK

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Thursday, November 3, 2022

Ms. VELÁZQUEZ. Madam Speaker, I rise to recognize the achievements of Judge Alex Calabrese, the presiding judge of the Red Hook Community Justice Center in my district in Brooklyn, New York. Judge Calabrese began his legal career as a public defender in the Legal Aid Society's Criminal Defense Practice and went on to serve as the court attorney for the Honorable Leslie Crocker Snyder. He was later appointed to the bench in 1997, presiding in Kings County Criminal Court prior to his tenure in Red Hook. While sitting through Kings County arraignments of low-level cases, he recognized the return appearances of those who had previously come before him. He began incorporating supportive services as part of sentencing including a follow-up approach which had not been done before. This brought him to the attention of Center for Court Innovation which was opening the Red Hook Community Court. As the first and only presiding judge in the Red Hook Court, Judge Calabrese handled cases from three jurisdictions: criminal, family, and housing, the first in the country to do so.

Judge Calabrese kept to his belief in people, viewing each who came before him as unique and deserving of respect, and most of all, the opportunity to live up to their full potential. Under his leadership, he fostered the Peacemaking approach of the Navajo Nation where the community comes together as part of decision making. A key innovation is Red Hook Youth Court where young people are trained to serve as jurors, judges and advocates for their peers who have committed minor offenses. This approach helps restore the harm done in the community and ensure those involved receive the help they need to avoid getting caught up in the justice system, addressing early-on underlying issues that prompt criminal behavior in the first place.

Judge Calabrese has shared his unique approach from the bench by presenting and teaching extensively, both nationally and internationally. Lord Woolf, Chief Judge of England and Whales said: "the Red Hook Courthouse is the finest example of restorative justice I have ever seen and should be emulated by courts throughout the world; then justice will truly have meaning." For his greater than two decades of service on the bench to reform justice in our communities, I recognize Judge Alex Calabrese for his invaluable service to us all.

CELEBRATING THE 51ST ANNIVERSARY OF THE SOUTHERN POVERTY LAW CENTER IN MONTGOMERY, AL

HON. TERRI A. SEWELL

OF ALABAMA

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Thursday, November 3, 2022

Ms. SEWELL. Madam Speaker, I rise today to recognize the 51st Anniversary of the Southern Poverty Law Center (SPLC) in Montgomery, Alabama.

Though the SPLC was founded after the passing of the Civil Rights Law of 1964 and the Voting Rights Law of 1965, the founders of the SPLC, two young civil rights lawyers from Montgomery recognized that despite the promises of these laws, life for African Americans in the South remained the same. They witnessed first-hand the devastating effects of racial injustice, and together, Joseph Levin Jr. and Morris Dees committed themselves to provide a voice for the disenfranchised.

Watching our communities strategically excluded from a range of economic and educational opportunities, they took pro bona cases few others were willing to pursue, resulting in the desegregation of recreational facilities, the reapportionment of the Alabama Legislature, and reforms in the state prison system. It was from the work and vision of these two men that the Southern Poverty Law Center was born in 1971.

Specializing in civil rights and public interest litigation, the SPLC has remained dedicated to working directly with communities to dismantle white supremacy, protect voting rights, eradicate poverty, and reform the criminal justice system. Through more than 30 landmark legal victories, the work of the SPLC has spurred systemic reforms in the Deep South and fought to protect our most sacred and fundamental rights.

During its 1981 litigation efforts against the Ku Klux Klan, the SPLC discovered the lack of comprehensive information on American radical groups. Recognizing the vitality of this resource in the fight to battle injustice, the SPLC created its Intelligence Project and Hatewatch program to monitor and expose such groups. Today, their Intelligence Project tracks more than 1,600 extremist groups in the United States and is an invaluable resource for training and educating the public.

As a forward-facing organization, the SPLC has transformed over the years as a catalyst of change; while also ensuring that we never forget the sacrifice and bravery of those on whose shoulders we stand. Through the Civil Rights Memorial Center, the SPLC has memorialized the stories of the countless known and unknown Foot Soldiers that fought, bled, and died, holding our Nation accountable to its highest ideals of justice and equality. Through honoring the martyrs of the Civil Rights Movement, this center inspires and empowers all its visitors to continue the fight for racial equality and civil rights.

Remaining true to its founding mission—ensure that the promise of the Civil Rights Movement became a reality for all, the SPLC has remained on the front lines in the fight for civil rights, standing up for the powerless, the exploited, and other victims of discrimination and hate. Their critical work has dismantled vestiges of Jim Crow, reformed juvenile justice practices, shattered barriers to equality for women, the LGBT community and the disabled, and protected low-wage immigrant workers from exploitation. Its accomplished history is evidence of an unwavering resolve to promote and protect our nation's most vulnerable by serving as a voice for the voiceless.

On a personal note, for over 50 years, the SPLC has faithfully upheld its rich legacy as a stalwart defender of human rights by providing education, litigation, and public resources to all. As we have seen old battles become new again, your work at the SPLC is as critical today as it was over five decades ago, and I am thrilled that your headquarters is in my district. Congratulations on 51 years of success, and as we honor the living, breathing legacy of the Civil Rights Movement, I am proud to pay tribute to the work done by the Southern Poverty Law Center.

On behalf of Alabama's 7th Congressional District, I ask my colleagues to join me in recognizing the 51st anniversary of the Southern Poverty Law Center and its unwavering dedication to ensuring our nation lives up to its most cherished ideals.

HONORING THE LIFE AND LEGACY OF MARGUERITE SALAZAR

HON. JOE NEGUSE

OF COLORADO

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Thursday, November 3, 2022

Mr. NEGUSE. Madam Speaker, today I wish to honor the life and legacy of my dear friend and former colleague, Marguerite Salazar. Marguerite passed away on Tuesday, November 1, 2022. She is survived by her husband, Arnold, her two children, Ursula and Max, and her grandchildren, Marcos, Alicia, and Jacquez. She was 69 years old.

Marguerite worked tirelessly throughout her life to increase access to high-quality health care for all Americans. She served as the CEO of Valley-Wide Health Systems for over twenty-five years. Her dedication to her work led to her appointment by President Barack Obama as Region VIII director of the United States Department of Health and Human Services, where she oversaw implementation of the Affordable Care Act in six states. She would then go on to serve as Colorado's State Insurance Commissioner, and later served as Executive Director of the Colorado Department of Regulatory Agencies. I cherish the time we spent working together.

As a passionate and tireless advocate for others, Marguerite contributed greatly to her community and to all those who had the honor of knowing her. She will be remembered as an incredible public servant, a loving mother, and a caring friend.

Coloradans across our state send our thoughts and prayers to the Salazar family and to all of Marguerite's loved ones. As we mourn her passing, we will be comforted by our memories and inspired by her legacy.

ONGOING PROTESTS IN IRAN

HON. BRIAN HIGGINS

OF NEW YORK

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Thursday, November 3, 2022

Mr. HIGGINS of New York. Madam Speaker, I rise today to express concern about the brutal oppression of women and girls in Iran.

On September 16, 2022, Iran's Morality Police murdered Mahsa Amini, a 22-year-old woman, after detaining her for not wearing a hijab in accordance with the regime-imposed dress code for women.

This act prompted outrage across the world.

By the hundreds of thousands, Iranians have peacefully protested their government's actions.

Led by women and girls, they are advocating for basic human rights, dignity, and equality.

The government's response has been disturbing.

It is estimated that over three hundred Iranians have been killed by their own government.

Iranian-Americans, some of whom are my constituents, are rightly concerned for the safety of their friends and family still in the country.

The regime has denied women and girls their fundamental rights for far too long. Attacking peaceful protesters—many of them schoolchildren—only continues this trend.

I rise today to stand in solidarity with my constituents, expressing support for the Iranian people in their fight to exercise basic human freedoms.
